

Welcome

An organic farm, an alpine kitchen, a chalet and a distillery with hearty originality and many culinary, homemade delights.

Through the healthy growth of our company, the new energy house with biomass wood chip heating plant and photovoltaic system was built in 2021 and battery storage built.

To our greatest delight we are able to produce our own green electricity, completely energy self-sufficient and independent.

That is sustainability and an environmentally friendly cycle.

As convinced organic mountain farmers, we pay attention to this in our kitchen using local and regional products.
